The impact of the pandemic on learning

- The move to emergency remote teaching
- Lecturing as an entrenched practice
- Emergency video conferencing
- Hybrid teaching (f-2-f and online teaching, sometimes operated simultaneously in one synchronous session)

"Higher education has been granted good will these past couple of months by students and their families. But as with an unhappy marriage, everyone involved agrees that the patched-together system of awkward Zoom classes, glitchy technology, and uncertain expectations, among both students and professors, needs to end" (McMurtrie, 2020).
